

A 3D rendering of a modern, light gray storage unit. The unit features two columns of drawers on the left and right sides, each with three drawers. Each drawer has a black handle with a silver-colored pull. The top of the unit has a series of small, dark gray rectangular compartments. The bottom section is a large, front-loading compartment with a silver-colored frame and a light gray, textured interior. The right side of the unit has a perforated metal mesh panel. The unit is shown from a three-quarter perspective against a plain white background.
